American Legion Fund Goes Over The Top

Based on Subscriptions Actually Received, Amounts Expected on Cards Still Out and Value of Gifts and Services Promised, Fund for Memorial Building Reaches Total of $36,112.08.

When the total of $36,112.08 was announced at Wednesday night's meeting of campaign workers, the crowd was so large that many of the workers were crowded out. The fund for the American Legion Memorial Building has now reached the top of the list of successful campaigns. The fund is now $36,112.08, which is the total of all subscriptions received, the amount expected on cards still out, and the value of gifts and services promised.

For ten long, hard days the battle lasted; each day saw a few more trenches taken from the enemy, a few more dugouts and a few more machine gun nests "smoked out." Foot by foot the gallant army up the side of Hill $36,000, the great objective. Nearer and nearer appeared the flag of victory, floating from the crest of the Hill. And Wednesday night, with one smashing, irresistible thrust, the top was reached. Never was there a harder working outfit in a campaign. With Sam Watts as Regimental Commander the victory was assured. And when the totals to date were announced, three cheering cheers were given for him.

Total to Date $36,112.08.
Wednesday's total was $2,962.00. This figure includes pledges of cash and material which have been secured but not yet received, and amounts expected on cards still out. When a complete list of donors of building material, cartage, etc., is received, it will be published. About 60,000 bricks will be needed for the building, valued at $1,080 at the yards, and the brick manufacturers in this vicinity have pledged to raise that amount of brick. A bargain for towing the brick has been donated, as well as the towing. The cartage from the dock in Rondout to the site is assured as a donation on the part of a number of local truckmen. This will bring the brick, a large item in the cost of construction, to the site without one dollar of cost.

Headliners in Wednesday's reports were:
Kingston Trust Co. $200.00
Rondout National Bank 100.00
Polish Sick & Aid Society 10.00
Rondout Lodge 343, F. & A. M. 25.00

D. S. C. in Brick Day Sale.
Fuller's Shirt Factory won the D. S. C. in the Brick Day sale, the employees of that shop buying over $50 worth of bricks. Other lodges, Joe companies and clubs have given assurances that their contributions will be made as soon as a meeting is had to give official sanction. These organizations will be put on the honor roll when their donations are received.

A number of prospects were not covered, a number have promised to send in their contributions direct to the American Legion. Wednesday the adjutant received 14 checks from voluntary contributors. No doubt contributions will be made until the building is completed. Make checks payable to American Legion Building Fund and send them to Eugene B. Carey, Adjutant, 53 John street, Kingston, N. Y.

Contracts for the construction of the Memorial Building have been awarded.

Orders have been issued to commence work at once, and the project is expected to be completed on October 1st.

Kingston Post of the American Legion extends its sincere thanks to the Y. M. C. A. for the generous donation of its building for campaign headquarters. To the various organizations that helped to reach the top of Hill $36,000, to the auditing committee for their faithful service, to the chairman and members of the executive and citizens' committees, to the newspapers for their loyal support, and to any and every one whose support and cooperation made the campaign the success it was.

Special mention is made of Benjamin Siskind, captain of the Royal Grocers' team, which turned in large contributions than any other organization team except the American Legion team.

Fire Destroyed Boarding House

Saturday afternoon during the heavy rainstorm which visited Ulster county the large boarding house of Theodore Steinberg at Mt. Pleasant caught fire and was completely destroyed. The house which was located between Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant was being prepared for the opening of the summer season. Efforts of neighbors to extinguish the fire were of no avail although assistance arrived before the fire had gained much headway.

Hold Spaniards On Arson Charge

Juan Marties, Antonio Albina, Vercenties Pojales and Manuel Gonzales, who are Spaniards, are in Ulster county jail being held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of arson. They were arrested Wednesday by Sergeant Cunningham and State Trooper Coons, after an investigation by Sheriff Wells and deputies and were committed by Justice of the Peace Wallace Shultis of the town of Woodstock. The quartet were employed by M. C. Tryon who has the contract to build the Bearsville-Willow highway and a shack at Lake Hill on the Clarence Howland property in which they lived was destroyed by fire with its contents. Some of the laborers who lived in the shack reported the loss of money in their clothes. When the fire was reported to Sheriff Wells he ordered an investigation which was made and the result was the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of the men and their arraignment Wednesday before Judge Shultis.

Census Taking Begins Monday

Police Will Give Assistance To Census Enumerators—Correct Information Must Be Given Under Penalty of Law.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, May 28.—Chiefs of police and sheriffs throughout the entire state today received a copy of the 1925 Census instructions, with their attention called to that section relative to their affording assistance, whenever necessary, to the census enumerators who begin their work next Monday morning. Although Florence E. S. Knapp, Secretary of State, under whose direction the census is being taken, does not anticipate any trouble through persons failing to answer the questions asked by the enumerators, she is acquainting these officers with the provisions of the law.

The law reads as follows: "In all counties of this state the sheriff, mayor or police commissioner of the city, or other officers having the control and direction of the police, or other peace officers, shall render, and cause the police or other peace officers to render, assistance and aid to the enumerators, supervisors and enumerators appointed under this article, when so requested to do by the Secretary of State or enumeration supervisor, and upon like request shall cause police officers or other peace officers to accompany such enumerators to any house or houses, place or places for the purpose of rendering such aid and assistance."

The law further provides that any person who is at the head of a family or a member of the same, and who is twenty-one years of age or over, who refuses to give the enumerator the information required or who gives false information, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $100, nor less than $50.

No Agreement On Park Bill

Conference on New State Park Bill Attended by Legislative Leaders Breaks Up Without Agreement—Smith Still Has Hope for New Bill.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, May 28.—Governor Smith has not given up hope of having a new state park bill passed at a special session of the legislature this summer, but he is not any too optimistic.

The conference called by the governor of the Republican and Democratic legislative leaders and representatives of the state park commissions, which lasted six hours on Tuesday, broke up without an agreement being reached.

Not one cent of the $15,000,000 bond issue, approved by the voters last fall by over a million majority, can be spent for the improvement of either park until a new bill is passed, either at a special session this summer or at the regular 1926 session next winter.

During the last legislature the Republicans passed a measure appropriating $5,000,000 of the bond issue. It was vetoed by the governor after he charged the Republican leaders with trying to play politics with the state park program.

A definite decision by the governor regarding the proposed special session is not expected before the latter part of next week. In the meantime, it is understood, the governor's friends and representatives of the park commissions in various parts of the state will see how many Republican votes they can line up for a bill which would be acceptable to the governor.

Governor to Start Bond Issue Drive

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., May 28.—Governor Smith's drive to insure the success of the $100,000,000 bond issue for permanent state improvements will be inaugurated next Tuesday night at the Hotel Biltmore, New York city.

The governor today wrote to 67 prominent Republican men and women to meet him in conference next Tuesday at the New York hotel.

"Plans for informing the public concerning the $100,000,000 bond issue to be voted upon this fall are to be considered and I would appreciate your cooperation," the governor wrote.

The governor said he was convinced the Republican leaders would like to see the bond issue defeated. If the bond issue is approved the Legislature will be authorized to appropriate $10,000,000 for ten successive years for state improvements of a permanent character.

Among the women invited to the conference are Mrs. Sydney C. Borg, Mrs. Martha Draper, Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, Mrs. N. Taylor Phillips, and Mrs. John Blair and Mrs. Ward Parker Jr., all of New York city; Mrs. William Werner, Rochester, and Mrs. Daniel O'Day of Rye.

Help Poppy Day, Mayor Urges

Therefore, I, Mayor of the City of Kingston, do hereby urge the people of this city, to patronize the workers and cooperate to such an extent that the Poppy Sale will be most successful, and the American Legion of New York state may continue to carry on their great work of caring for the World War Heroes at Tupper Lake.

Pajama Actresses Flee From Fire

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Mass., May 28.—Twelve aged men and women were rescued, 100 guests, including 25 actresses, fled to the street, two policemen and two firemen were overcome by smoke, twelve firemen were cut by falling glass and all apparatus in the downtown section was called out during a fire in the Quincy House, famous Boston hotel, today.

Eight aged guests were carried to the street in the arms of Patrolmen William Owens and Walter Bird. Both patrolmen were overcome by smoke on the third floor of the hotel.

The fire, which started in an electrical company's store on the ground floor, quickly worked its way up through the Brattle street front of the hotel to the top floor.

Dieroff Helped Self to Auto

Newkirk Avenue Youth Confessed to Police Theft of a Dodge Touring Car From Strand—Ran Car Into a Tree.

John Dieroff, 17 years old, of No. 117 Newkirk avenue, when arraigned before Judge Harry E. Schirick in police court this morning on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree in stealing a new Dodge touring car parked on the Strand Wednesday evening, had his hearing adjourned to June 3. Bail was fixed at $2,000, and unable to furnish it he was remanded to the county jail until the adjourned hearing.

About 11 o'clock Wednesday evening, Joseph Edwards, a salesman employed by Keller & Bennett, parked his new Dodge touring car in front of a restaurant on the Strand while he stepped inside to get something to eat. When he came out he found the car gone and notified police headquarters.

Sergeant Phinney and Officer Fatum found the car abandoned on Meadow street. It had been some time damaged. Later they arrested Dieroff and according to the police he confessed the theft. He said he had driven over the Rondout Creek Bridge with the car and in turning around on the other side he lost control and collided with a tree.

The car while damaged was able to be operated under its own power and he ran it back across the bridge and abandoned it on Meadow street where it was found by the police.

West Point Road Closed Few Hours

Artillery Practice In Summer Only Closes One Highway From 8:45 to 11 A. M.—Visitors Always Welcome—Reservation Regulations for Motorists.

Headquarters United States Military Academy West Point, New York, May 26, 1925.

To the Editor of The Freeman.
Sir, It has just come to my notice that a good many people residing in this vicinity are in doubt as to their ability to visit West Point, especially on Sunday afternoons and holidays.

In order to clear up any misunderstanding which may exist, and in order that the public may know that they are welcome here at all times, will you please be kind enough to publish the following:

There are two routes through this government reservation. The first is in continuation of the Storm King Highway (Route No. 3, State Highway), extending south to the cross roads on the reservation about a mile from the North Gate, and then turning left to Highland Falls where one can turn left at Garrison, or to the right toward Bear Mountain Park. This route through the reservation is open to traffic both ways at all hours.

The other route is one which enters the North Gate and, over a local road, leads into the Post proper, to the West Point-Garrison ferry, or out the South Gate. It is open every day from 6 a. m. until 11 p. m. for passenger motor traffic both ways, except on Sunday afternoons (when ever traffic conditions make it necessary) from 1 o'clock until after parade about 6 p. m., during which period its use is permitted from South to North only. Its use in the same way will be prescribed on holidays when traffic conditions make it necessary. During this period through traffic is not interrupted, and those who desire to stop and see parade can park at prescribed places and so.

Between 11 p. m. and 6 a. m. both gates are closed except to those living or having business on the Post. The West Point-Garrison ferry does not run during this period. There is free access to the ferry for all its trips and free access to the Post from ferry on all its trips.

From June 29 until August 20, inclusive, except on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, through traffic on both routes will be interrupted at the reservation limits on account of Field Artillery service practice between the hours of 8:45 and 11 a. m.

The interruption of this traffic is in accordance with the permit granted by the Secretary of War to the New York State Highway Commission to extend the road through the government reservation. I quote extracts therefrom:

"and whereas, the proposed highway will occupy in part a road across Meadow street, which is a road of great importance, the line of fire being several hundred feet above said road, which is closed while such practice is in progress."

"Now therefore, this is to certify that the Secretary of War hereby gives to the Highways Commission, the State of New York permission to extend said highway across said reservation upon the location shown on the map above referred to as on file at West Point, New York, upon the following conditions:

1. That the United States reserves the right to close at any time that portion of said highway across which the firing takes place while target practice is in progress.

2. That the occupation of said reservation incident to the construction, operation and maintenance of said highway shall be subject to such rules and regulations as the Superintendent of the Military Academy may from time to time prescribe in the interest of good order and military discipline."

In short, the zone of fire during artillery target practice crossed the line of the present highway long before the permit was granted and the construction of the road only on condition that the right be reserved to close it for firing.

During the two hours that the Storm King Highway is closed the North and scenic half from Cornwall South around Storm King to the first parking space at the dividing pool is open, as is West Point from all directions except from the North over the Storm King Highway.

Visits to the reservation are always encouraged and when organized bodies communicate with us in advance guides are detailed for them in the effort to make their visits pleasant and profitable.

The conditions of traffic regulation outlined above are not a chance over what has been in effect for some time nor is it contemplated to make any change.

Very truly yours,
FRED W. SLADEN,
Major General, U. S. Army,
Superintendent.

Tokio, May 28.—Two cruisers were dispatched today to Tientsin to protect the Japanese colony there, endangered by a strike of Chinese workers in Japanese mills. ## Men Pay Tribute To Dr. Michael's 50 Years' Service

Thirty Years of His Half Century of School Activity Spent in Kingston—Celebrated by Testimonial Dinner at First Dutch Church.

Never was more sincere and hearty tribute of respect, appreciation and affection paid to a citizen of Kingston than that paid to Dr. Myron J. Michael at the dinner given in his honor at the First Reformed Church on Wednesday evening by business and professional men of the city.

The dinner was arranged by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Rotary Club in celebration of Dr. Michael's having completed 50 years in active work as school teacher and superintendent of schools, 30 years of this period having been spent in Kingston. In order that there might be a tangible and useful memorial of the event, it was arranged that a portion of the price of the dinner tickets, supplemented by substantial contributions from the treasuries of the three organizations, shall go into a fund, the interest from which, to be known as the Myron J. Michael prize, shall be awarded annually to the high school student showing greatest proficiency in a subject to be designated by Dr. Michael.

After a turkey dinner, Judge Clearwater, presiding as toastmaster, delivered an eloquent and enthusiastic eulogy of Kingston and everything in it, including the high school and the old Kingston Academy which he entered as a student 66 years ago. The judge spoke highly of the morality of Kingston, seeking to prove his case by reading a compilation of statistics showing that of a population of 27,000 more than 17,000 are church members.

The Formal Tribute.
E. Everett Fessenden, the first speaker introduced by the toastmaster, spoke of the influence exerted by Dr. Michael on students, of the simplicity and justice of the man and read a number of letters from former students in the Kingston schools. Mr. Fessenden presented the following resolution, which was adopted by a most enthusiastic rising vote:

"Believing that nothing transcends in intrinsic excellence man's contribution to the spiritual, moral and intellectual uplift of his fellows and realizing that some reward in kind should be bestowed upon our guest for his services, we, the business and professional men of Kingston do resolve that we extend to Dr. Myron J. Michael, upon the completion of his thirty years of service in the school system of Kingston, a vote of sincere gratitude for his very great contribution to our city. We extend to him our heartfelt congratulations upon his success and wish for him the utmost felicity throughout the years to come."

A Perpetual Memorial.
William C. Kingman, the next speaker, explained that there was no gift to Dr. Michael, nothing tangible that he could carry away with him, but that the Myron J. Michael Prize, which had been instituted by those present, would be a perpetual memorial.

Earle H. Houghtaling of Walden, in an eloquent and witty speech, told of his school days in Kingston and of the respect in which he and thousands of others held Mr. Michael.

Principal C. W. Lewis of Englewood, formerly of Kingston, said he had not come to make a speech but to convey by his presence the esteem and respect in which he held Dr. Michael.

State Shares Kingston View.
Prof. Charles F. Wheelock, who taught the Canajoharie school 45 years ago when Dr. Michael was teaching at Falmale Bridge, spoke of their long friendship and of Dr. Michael's standing among educators. "Your view of your high school and of Dr. Michael," he said, "is the view of the whole state." The high school teacher is extinct. We now have teachers in high schools, who teach one subject. We used to have high school teachers who taught a dozen subjects and taught them well.

The speaker speculated on whether or not he have improved, but did not state his own conclusion.

Referring to the toastmaster's certificate of the high morality of Kingston and the statistics by which the speaker's morality had been proved, Prof. Wheelock said he was glad to be in a room where of a population of 27,000, 17,000 were moral. He was glad to be among the 17,000 moral and trusted that, thus surrounded and protected, he would meet none of the 10,000 who are not moral and be contaminated by them.

For All Civic Betterment.
County Judge Joseph T. Lander said that thus far one might think this a meeting of Kingston Academy alumni and that Dr. Michael had no friends outside the city, and no life outside the school. He wanted to state that Dr. Michael is not solely a school man, but an active citizen of the community, interested in its welfare and its business and social life.

Other civic organizations Dr. Michael has always been found ready to give truly and effectively his time and his money.

Passed Golden Milestone.
After Judge Clearwater had told the story of his interview with Dr. Michael.

Rotarians Hear What Yonkers Did

Work by Which Chamber of Commerce There Was Enlarged Outlined in Explanation of Forthcoming Expansion Campaign.

Wednesday's Rotary Club luncheon was given over to the Chamber of Commerce in order that the Rotarians of Kingston might have opportunity of listening to an explanation of what the chamber's present expansion movement really means to the community. As previously announced, Gerald S. Couzens of Yonkers was the guest of honor and gave an interesting outline of what was done by the Chamber of Commerce of that city last November in a similar movement. Mr. Couzens was chairman of the Yonkers campaign. He told of this campaign Wednesday, briefly outlining its procedure from beginning to its successful conclusion. Mr. Couzens said in substance as follows:

"Yonkers is unlike Kingston in that there we are located next door to New York city and while the city of Yonkers has a population of 140,000, it hasn't the buying power which such a population should represent or can the merchants depend on that amount of population for patronage. It is so easy for us to go into New York city by automobile, street car, bus or railroad that we lose considerably thereby while in Kingston you are more independent but I do not know enough about your city and what you are doing to make comparisons.

"Last fall and for quite a while previously we studied our situation and found ourselves in a state of apathy. The Chamber of Commerce being unable to do anything with a small membership of only 300, we decided to attempt a drive to enlarge the organization.

"We were fortunate in having the advice of the same men who I understand are working with you, in your present effort and the results we accomplished were far beyond what we hoped for.

"A list of all the people of Yonkers whom we thought should be members of the Chamber was made up and literature and letters were mailed them.

"We conducted luncheons at which we asked those who attended to volunteer their services and the Rotarians, as they always do, got behind the campaign. From these volunteers we made up teams and then went out and in five mornings had over 1,000 members. We found that the literature sent out before visiting the prospects and the publicity so well received that enthusiasm ran high throughout the city. Men of old standing which we have always characterized as impossible and citizens before regarded as hard shells seemed to have caught a new vision and simply could not resist the invitation to join the Chamber of Commerce. There was no argument, the answer to the committee's call generally being, 'Of course, put our name down.'

"Since the drive many of those who surprised us with their membership have been the first to appear at the Chamber's office and ask what they could do, showing their willingness to help with an enlarged Chamber, where before they had taken no interest when our Chamber was not in good shape, and this I believe will hold true in every community.

"The nearest thing I can compare a successful Chamber of Commerce to is an enlarged Rotary Club, but of course there are things that must be done and can be done by a live Chamber of Commerce that could not be attempted by a Rotary Club, no matter what its size.

"What I mean to say is that the same kind of spirit and desire for service is to be found in a big, representative Chamber of Commerce as is shown in Rotary.

"We are of course pleased to have such a good organization in our city and no one regrets the effort he put into it."

Concluding his remarks, Mr. Couzens stated that he had a selfish interest in accepting the invitation to visit the Rotary Club here, which was to investigate the procedure adopted in Kingston in financing Kingston's new hotel; that the Chamber of Commerce of Yonkers proposes to launch a hotel project for which they are ready and "raring to go."

Mr. Couzens' talk was well received and he was given enthusiastic applause.

Secretary Louis S. Coe then briefly outlined the plan now in progress and asked for volunteer help in the local program which starts next Tuesday following the Get Together Dinner Monday evening.

Cooperating in the forward movement, letters have been mailed out to several hundred fellow citizens by Aaron Cohen of Cohen Brothers and by W. C. Klagman of the Canfield Supply Company. Each of these letters informed the movement and urged its recipient to get behind the Chamber of Commerce to the end that success shall be assured.

SCHOOL NO 1 PLANTS TREES FOR SOLDIER DEAD MONDAY
Monday was a big day at School No. 1 in White when memorial services were held and trees planted for one of the soldier dead of the World War. There were also dead day exercises and at the close the Parents-Teachers Association of the school served tea cream and cake. Mrs. Anne Cragna presented two trees to be planted, one in memory of her son, Bernard, and the other in memory of James Kelly. The master of the day was Judge Robert G. Groves. The dead day exercises were in charge of Physical Instructor O'Leary, assisted by Mrs. Crocker.

A SUGGESTED ANSWER

William J. Bryan has been much criticized for his evasion of a question asked him by a student of Brown University—which is quoted as follows: "Isn't it possible that there may be a philosophy formulated by evolutionary thinking, which philosophy presents a worship and reverence for future generations as an ideal and which looks toward the development of heaven upon earth through the use of science, and is not this idea a fine and worthy one capable of producing a not less noble standard of morality?"

Instead of sarcastically dismissing the questioner as "a magnificent bubbling fount of wisdom," Mr. Bryan might well have answered that a heaven on earth is indeed a worthy ideal, and one almost as old as the ideal of a heaven of immortals after death, but that there is nothing to show that it can be produced either "through the use of science" or through "a worship and reverence for future generations."

Both the teaching of the ages and common perception lead to the conviction that what has been called the millennium can be brought about only by a perfected morality resulting from the long nourished and complete development of universal good will among men.

It might have been added that there is no conflict between this ideal of a millennium on earth and the ideal of a heaven of immortals after death. The latter, in fact, could be logically regarded as the complete and perfect flower of the former. And it might have been said further that in the ideal of a heaven of perfected immortals there is an infinitely greater inspiration for human endeavor to rise to moral heights than in a vision of a mere developed civilization on earth in ages to come wherein men now living can have no conscious part.

"Men Graduated from Princeton in 1915 Now Earning an Average of $7,593 Yearly."—Headline. But it is said that most of them were given their jobs by their millionaire dads. College is a good commercial investment for human material of the night sort, but misleading talk of this kind is crowding the seats of learning with young men altogether lacking in taste for study and with abilities fitting them for little more than manual labor.

Margot Asquith, whose husband was recently created Lord Oxford, characteristically remarks in her latest literary venture that Americans are so vain that "they would rather hear themselves abused than not discussed." Having long been suspected of a similar inclination, Margot may now expect to be accused of judging others by her own lime-light-loving self.

Women in the small towns of Illinois devote conversation chiefly to gossip and local happenings, giving comparatively little attention to household hints, love affairs or even to styles in dress. Or, after investigation, so says Miss Dorothy Chester, a student of journalism at the state university, who may or may not be a good reporter.

After being frequently assassinated, imprisoned, excommunicated and "killed" with mortal diseases, Trotsky has returned from four months' sojourn in the Caucasus in ruffled and vigorous. He might paraphrase Mark Twain to the effect that his misadventures have been slighter exaggerated.

Mr. Bryan needs to show better proof that he is "not innocent" than the degree conferred on him by educational institutions, for there is a widespread impression that in many cases such honorary degrees are given prominent men not for their learning but for their supposed influence in one way or another.

"We really can not blame the men, they have had their way so long," says Governor "Ma" Ferguson, but according to report Texas one of the opinion that former Governor "Ma" Ferguson is still having his way as well as running things generally at the State Capitol.

knows how to keep himself fit in spite of the passage of time is shown by his three home runs and six hits in one game, after playing in the major leagues for nearly twenty years.

Five more Americans have been given place and their busts are to be unveiled in New York's "Hall of Fame"—John Marshall, chief justice, Harriet Beecher Stowe, author, Charlotte Cushman, actress; Asa Gray, botanist and William T. Sherman, soldier.

THE HEART AND HEADACHE.

Two Chicago physicians are reporting an interesting condition, the knowledge of which may be of help to our friends who think they have heart disease.

They state that in many cases suffering with migraine, or sick headache, the usual symptoms were replaced by "heart" symptoms, or rather a very rapid beating of the heart.

In these cases of sick headache the sufferer knows when one is coming on by a feeling of impending danger, of dizziness, flashes of yellow light, and so forth. The attack consists of nausea, vomiting, severe one-sided headache, and extreme weakness.

The cause of the attacks is due to the fact that the tissues do not seem able to use the oxygen of the blood, and so half burnt materials of an acid nature are left in the blood and tissues.

These substances irritate the nervous system and likewise the blood vessels themselves. Thus there follows a feeling of air hunger, of pain in stomach, and a slowing up of the mental activity.

Why the tissues do not use the oxygen has yet to be learned. Emotional disturbances of any kind often bring on the attacks, whereas with others the attacks come on at regular intervals as if the system just got overloaded with something, and tried to get rid of it, to right itself by this vomiting and nausea.

And so our Chicago physicians are of the opinion that certain cases have all the preliminary symptoms of this trouble, and then instead of the headache, nausea and vomiting, they have this very rapid beating of the heart, which may be as high as 160 to 180 beats per minute. The heart seems to almost stop, it beats so slowly, and then it starts off at a rapid rate and remains that way during the period of the attack. The same treatment as for headache type is used, that is an attempt to secure freedom from emotional disturbances, rest, cutting down on acid foods—meats, fruits, cereals—and more of the outdoor life.

Prunella Provides Fitting Finale

The presentation of "Prunella" on Friday evening, May 25, will provide an absorbing final episode in the High School May Day Pageant. The enthusiasm of the small group who have seen rehearsals, and the sale of tickets up to this time, must have teased the appetite of the cast and made them look forward to Friday evening as the occasion of a long promised fete. However that may be, they pursue costumes and music, properties and make-up with concentration and aplomb.

The performance begins promptly at 8:15. Tickets are for sale by students, or they may be purchased at the Y. M. C. A. or at the door on Friday evening.

Today We Celebrate

ISETTA BRAMBATTI.

Isetta Brambatti was a very excellent classical scholar, and understood all the polite languages of Europe. She wrote poetry with great eloquence and is said to have managed several law suits, pleading them herself in the Senate of Milan, with consummate ability, and, what is more extraordinary, without being thought ridiculous. She was the wife of Girolamo Grumelli. She died in 1586. Some of her letters, and poems were published by Comir Venture, in Bergamo, in 1587.

GREAT LAKES NAVIGATION.

The first steamboat on Lake Erie, the "Walk-On-The-Water" was launched at Black Rock, a short distance below Buffalo, 107 years ago today, May 28, 1818, making her maiden voyage from Buffalo to Detroit, the following August. The first steam craft on the Great Lakes was the Frontenac, which was launched in 1816 on Lake Ontario. It was built by Canadians at a cost of $75,000 and was long the most magnificent of Great Lakes steamers. Steam navigation on American rivers had commenced some years earlier. In 1807 Fulton's "Clermont" made a trip on the Hudson from New York to Albany. In 1811 the first steam vessel on the Ohio and Mississippi made its maiden voyage from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. The same year John Molson built the first steamboat on the St. Lawrence, plying between Montreal and Quebec. The year which witnessed the start of steam navigation on Lake Erie also saw the passage of the Atlantic by the Rising Sun, a steamer built by Lord Cochrane and in 1819 the American S. S. Savannah sailed from New York to Savannah and thence to Liverpool and St. Petersburg—her tonnage was 380.

CHARLESTON.

The first settlement at Charleston, S. C., 261 years ago (tomorrow), but it was until 1670, six years later, that the colony really got its start. The few English colonists who laid the foundation of what was to become the aristocratic center of the Old South, were augmented in 1671 by a small colony from Barbados. In 1680 the founders of Old Charleston removed to Oyster Point and founded Charleston. A large influx of Protestant refugees from France added to the town's population and importance about 1685. In 1732 the first newspaper in South Carolina was established—in Charleston with Thomas Whitmarsh as editor. In the years preceding the Revolution hundreds of German and French refugees sought asylum in Charleston. The South Carolina metropolis was not backward in following the example of New England in defying the power of England, and in 1780 it was captured by the British and held until 1782. The first open movement for the secession of the South from the Union originated in Charleston.

Where Red Apples Need Efficiency Change in Color In Health Work

Kingstonians who have struggled with some of the illustrations in color which are being printed in books on various subjects should appreciate the condition existing in Montclair, N. J.

According to a Montclair despatch to the New York Times:

When red apples are pictured in orange hues and a bluebird in a variety of colors, how are children in the primary grades to learn the true colors?

This is the situation that confronted the Montclair Board of Education last night in the selection of suitable readers for the lower grades of the town schools.

In several of the books under consideration the subjects are colored in tints not true to nature. In one instance a child is shown pointing to a fruit, and the caption below reads "See the big red apple." The education board believes that the big red apple looks more like a pumpkin or squash than anything else. Another picture of a bluebird is depicted in an orange color.

The board will take up the matter with the publishing companies.

Another N. Y. C. Barge Completed

Dwyer Brothers, boat builders on the Rondout creek, have completed the second barge of their contract of ten for the New York Central Railroad. This barge is for the carrying of freight that is loaded at the different stations, the barge then being taken alongside of a steamship and the cargo transferred if it is for foreign ports. The barges also receive cargoes from the steamships to be transferred to the railroad for freight shipment to different parts of the country. Each of the barges is capable of holding four hundred tons of freight. Besides the freight house, there is the sleeping room, size 7 1/2 x 14 feet, a living room, 9 x 14 feet, and the kitchen, 6 x 14 feet. Each room is well equipped for the convenience and comfort of the captain of the barge and his family.

The Dwyer Brothers have two more of the barges under construction, one of which will be launched next week.

It Comes High

Perdual S. Hill, the tobacco magnate, subscribed for $10,000,000 of the German loan. Of course, he would not have done this if he had not been thoroughly conversant with European affairs. At a luncheon in New York the other day he was talking about David Lloyd George, once the most prominent and popular man in the world, now a negligible member of a negligible party.

"Every wiped Lloyd George out," he said. "His case is like that of the pretty girl."

"What makes Phoebe so disliked?" one young matron asked another.

"Why, didn't you hear," said the other young matron. Phoebe got the most votes at the church social for being the most popular girl."

Develop Ability

Too many people magnify their tasks—look at them in such way that they appear larger than they really are. Such people should magnify their ability—not overestimate it, but develop it. Doing so, tasks would appear less difficult.—Grun

Public health work is a specialty for which training, experience and certain fundamental personal qualifications are essential for success. This statement was made yesterday by Dr. Matthias Nicoll, Jr., state commissioner of health, in an address before the American Medical Association meeting at Atlantic City. Without the necessary training and personal qualifications, Dr. Nicoll said, the most successful physician may make a poor health officer.

States and the larger cities are beginning to realize the importance of having full-time, well trained health officers, but are having difficulty in getting them because salaries are inadequate and, often owing to political interference, tenure of office is uncertain. Until the American people, "with their surpassing genius for efficiency in the conduct of private business," insist upon a like efficiency in health work, said Dr. Nicoll, the health officer will continue to be looked upon simply as an "office holder." The health officer should be paid not on a living but a "saving wage." For at least ten years, he said in closing his address, New York state has been setting an example for other states and municipalities by leaving its health department free to manage its organization and carry on its work without political interference.

Many Ailments Cured by Diet of Grapes

A diet of grapes has taken its place among the treatments recommended for various ailments. The grape treatment is recommended for obesity, various stomach troubles, chronic bronchitis and some chest affections. There are several places in Europe to which patients go during the grape season for treatment. At first sight the treatment would appear to be an exceedingly attractive one, since it consists merely in living largely on these luscious fruits. In practice, however, most people find the reverse the case, for after a time a constant diet of grapes pall on the appetite, and people taking the cure are frequently heard to say that they come to hate the very sight of them.

The patients generally begin with a few large, luscious grapes by way of dessert at the end of their meal. But during the four to six weeks which is the general length of the cure, the weight of the grapes is gradually increased until the individual may be eating as much as eight pounds a day, with little or no other food.

In the more ordinary cases, however, when in full swing, the treatment is generally a pound or a little more of grapes three times a day, from half to one hour before meals.

Brigand of Balkans Modern Robin Hood

Brigandage is still a profitable profession in the Balkans, but its practice presents pitfalls to the novice. Not only has the brigand of the Near East to face the dangers inseparable from armed lawlessness, but he has to observe a rigid code of professional etiquette.

This was shown when a Greek ex-cabinet minister was captured by brigands near Salonika. He offered all the money in his possession to the chief of the robber band. But the latter indignantly refused to accept it.

"We are brigands, not thieves," he exclaimed.

When the ransom arrived, part of it was returned to the ex-minister to drink the health of his captors. This, it was explained, was the invariable custom of the "best brigands."

The robber chief in this episode claims to be a sort of Robin Hood. He told his prisoner that part of the proceeds of his brigandage was set aside to give money to the poor and provide dowries for penniless girls. He also seemed to be of a religious bent—like the brigands who captured the late Lord Montagu and his party in 1870, and took them to church on Sunday.

The Best Judge
The trust and dependence which characterized Rev. Doctor Smith's attitude towards his wife's judgment in all practical affairs were sometimes touching, but occasionally they were amusing.

"I am sorry you have been troubled with the toothache," said the family dentist, when Doctor Smith appeared in his office one day. "I gave you the first minute I had free after receiving your wife's telephone message. Let's see, which tooth is it that's troubling you?"

"It's not aching just at present," said Doctor Smith after a moment's hesitation, during which he made a cautious investigation with his tongue. "Didn't Mrs. Smith mention to you which tooth it was? I always rely on her in such matters."

His Language
In a little town in Tennessee Brother Mac is trustee of the school, director of the local bank and a pillar in the church. He is especially noted for his avuncular suavity.

On the night when the congregation were to hear the annual report of the officers of the church, Brother Mac had dropped off to sleep during the sermon. He was noticed by the secretary and treasurer as reading his report. She teased him just as the officer was saying, "Leaving a cash balance in the treasury of $20.00."

Upon hearing this, Brother Mac arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I make a motion we declare a dividend of 6 per cent."—Puritan Magazine.

Good Meals Are Made Better by the Best Bread

BREAD is the one food that we eat day after day, year after year, from childhood to old age, without tiring of. It has been the mainstay of the white race since the dawn of civilization.

Bread is a food without waste. Every bit of it can be eaten. And practically every bit of it that is eaten is absorbed by the body. Bread is the food that is most quickly turned into working energy.

Good bread is an investment in good health. In buying why not get the best? That's the kind we bake.

Herrin Harks to Music's Strains

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Herrin, Ill., May 28.—Music, that well known soul soother, coupled with the diligent civic spirit of a new city administration, may lead turbulent Herrin from the depths of blood and faction hatred to the heights of gentle progressiveness.

Herrin, where the crash of the revolver was a tonic to expectant nerves for many months, and where mysterious raiders, hooded and white-robed, made things uncomfortable after dark, has blossomed forth with a fifty-four piece symphony orchestra.

The orchestra, composed of high school students, recently made its national debut, broadcasting from St. Louis radio station KSD. Their offerings were highly received, and hundreds of wires and letters of appreciation were dispatched to the musicians, probably both from "enjoyment and relief," the orchestra leader, Miss Ruth Soultman, murmured.

Herrin enjoys the distinction, among other things of having the first grade school in Illinois to introduce free violin instruction courses among the students, and the present violin class totals some 250 ambitious youngsters.

Expect Peace.

The symphony orchestra, from its recent radio program, handled its notes with the confidence of a veteran orchestra, as evidenced in the selections which included the overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" (Von Suppe), "Unfinished Symphony," allegro moderato (Schubert), the "Waltz Ballet Suite" (Tschakovsky), and "Einzugsmarsch de Bojaren" (Halvorsen).

In an effort to convince the world in general that bloody Williamson is at last imbued with a true civic pride, the Chamber of Commerce has prepared a booklet on the county's virtues and attractions which will soon be off the press and disseminated over the entire nation.

The new city administration is dominated by anti-Klan officers, and a reign of peace is confidently predicted.

Wheeler in Statuary Hall

Gen. Joseph Wheeler—"Little Joe," the husky Rough Rider in the Cuban campaign, called him—is Alabama's choice for her long vacant pedestal in Statuary hall in the Capitol at Washington, as the Providence Journal.

Wheeler was not a native son of the state that has honored him by placing his image in what has been flippantly styled "the national chamber of horrors." But upon resigning his commission in the army to give his sword to the Confederacy he became colonel of an Alabama regiment and that state was his home when he volunteered for the Spanish war. By 1896 he was gray bearded and too frail looking for a cavalier, but stood up under the hardships of the Cuban campaign with a soldierly vigor that won the admiration of the little army and the envy of brother officers.

With General Wheeler in Statuary hall 22 states have filled their quota of two distinguished dead each. Interest in this American Valhalla has been lacking for a good many years, so that it is filling slowly. Nineteen states are not represented at all.

Planes Need No Pilot

Certain residents of the south coast of England were much astonished recently when an air force flying machine fell into the ocean and the authorities showed no undue anxiety about the fate of the pilot who, it was assumed, was aboard. After a while the air force men calmly put out in a skiff and towed the fallen plane to shore. The secret then leaked out that the machine had been without a pilot and that the accident was brought about by the plane passing beyond the radius of the wireless controlling force.

It was then learned for the first time that the planes seen for many weeks past circling in the air over this territory had all been without pilots; the control was by radio from a shore station.

Word to the Wise

"I am in debt to the department of street railways to the extent of several hundred dollars," said the north side business man. "I am not usually afflicted with lapses of memory, but when I happened to meet a friend in the bank the other day, I stopped to talk a moment and then went on leaving behind my bag containing the change I had obtained for Saturday. I boarded a Woodward avenue car and the first thing that caught my eye was the sign at the end of the car where the destination of some of the line usually appears. This said in red letters: 'Trip: Turn Back!—a notice to the conductor to remind the line strip in a flash came the picture of my bag beneath the desk at the back. Believe me, I turned back. The bag was there—untouched."—Detroit News.

Tuna Fishing in Hawaii

The Hawaii Tuna Fishing club of Honolulu offers exceptional facilities to the angler in reaching the famous game-fishing grounds, and under its direction the sport has been brought to the national prominence. The world's record for tuna catches was made in Hawaiian waters by Jump of Los Angeles. The Tuna club now has a well-equipped restaurant at Kilauea on the island of Hawaii, while similar clubs in accessible form Honolulu, Kailua, Hilo, Kona and Waimea. Among the game fish are the yellow and blue snappers, sea bream and swordfish.—P. J. Nelson in Adventure Magazine.

Radio Stations Use Little Power

No Super-Power Stations Yet—Power is Not the Only Determining Factor in Efficiency of Broadcasting.

Combine all the power used by the broadcasting stations in every land and it is virtually nothing, electrical speaking, when estimated in conjunction with the total consumption of electrical powers the world over. No less than 125,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity are consumed each year. Of this the United States produces and uses just about half.

About eighty per cent of this power is used in industry, the rest for industry.

There are in the United States and Canada 105 lighting, power and electric railway companies, having a yearly output each of 100,000,000 kilowatt hours. The Niagara Falls Power Company in 1924 reached the enormous figure of 2,558,452,674 kilowatt hours, with an average load of 325,419 kilowatts. The Commonwealth Edison Company and the Edison United Companies, New York, give peak loads in kilowatts of 717,600 and 613,215 respectively.

"It will thus be seen," declares Joseph D. R. Freed, president of the Freed-Edison Radio Corporation, "that we are far away from the era of super-power in broadcasting."

There are no really super-power stations as yet. What we have now are stations with increased power, up to five kilowatts, and we are watching with great interest the experiments being made at 1,500 to 5,000 watts. Power is not the only determining factor in the efficiency of broadcasting, entirely eliminating atmospheric conditions, but when it is accompanied by proper modulation and all other methods that pertain to transmission, power assumes vast importance, just as it does in the leading commercial code stations of the world.

"Suppose we have 500 broadcasting stations using an average of 500 watts, which is far ahead of the average which actually exists today in this country. We have only a total of 250 kilowatts to be multiplied by the hours of broadcasting. As can be easily seen, this is very very small indeed, as compared with the other figures showing the use of power in the service of mankind."

Suppose we used the energy of Niagara for broadcasting. The imagination must run riot in contemplating the effect!

"But then, who knows, we may be able to achieve amazing results in broadcasting by improved instruments using very little power."

"No man can forecast just what the next ten years will reveal in this marvelous science of radio!"

Central Hudson System of Gas & Electric Cos.

A Budget of News and Views From Your Gas & Electric Company

Vol. 1.

No. 8

"Standard Service for the Valley"

This has become a slogan for the Central Hudson System of Gas and Electric Companies, the significance of which increases as we think of what it means.

Formerly, electric energy was transmitted at varying voltages and at various frequencies. There was also wide difference in the form supplied in different communities. For example in some communities there were:

- D. C. at 110-220 volts
- D. C. at 500 volts for power.
- A. C. at 60 cycles.
- A. C. at 125 cycles.
- A. C. at 133 cycles.
- C. C. for arc lights.

This meant that one had to have electric equipment designed to use the particular form of current available in his immediate vicinity.

Now, throughout the territory served by the Central Hudson System the standard is uniform. One can use his electrical equipment anywhere in the area.

Standardization as to form in which energy is transmitted and distributed to the user is but one result of the grouping of companies into the Central Hudson System. It has resulted in a UNIFIED POLIOY, A UNIFIED SYSTEM as well as a UNIFIED SERVICE.

Gas and Electricity in the Family Budget

An analysis of the average family budget, made by the National Electric Light Association, shows that gas and electricity together take but 1.6 per cent, whereas food alone takes 26.8.

The following table was used in the analysis:

Food	26.8
Rent and Fuel	22.9
Clothes	15.3
Insurance	4.4
Miscellaneous (vacations, entertainments, gifts, savings)	24.1
Street Car Fare	2.9
Water	1.2
Gas and Cooking	1.9
Telephone	3
Electricity	3

Each one can determine for himself just how accurate the table is, but the point remains that two of the most important items, gas and electricity, take but a small part of the total.

New Industries in Central Hudson Region

Rosendale, a short distance from Kingston, is to have a silk mill, a factory building having been leased for that purpose by E. A. Wheaton & Co. Realizing the value of desirable industrial establishments, it is stated that Rosendale is offering free factory sites to reputable concerns which desire to locate in this very attractive community. Industrial progress in Rosendale will benefit not only Rosendale but Kingston as well.

Newburgh is to have a new indus-

A Glimpse Into the Future

BEFORE the days of centralized industry, was the age of the small shop—a master workman at the head employing a few journey-men and apprentices.

Great steam power plants brought an end to the small shop and crowded men into great industrial centers with all the attendant social economic ills.

Economists declare that electricity is the great agency which is causing the age of centralization to pass and bringing in the new era of many small establishments.

The master workman can again set up his shop, on low priced land, yet not isolated because there is no isolation in this day of easy communication, motor cars and improved highways.

He can drive the machines of his small plant with electric motors while the source of his power may be many miles away.

Unused buildings on the farm may be equipped with machinery and motors and employment provided during slack seasons on the farm.

The problem of marketing his product, will be solved with the growth of the small shop idea. His greatest problem, that of power, has been solved by the development of the electrical art.

The future Central Hudson Region should have many such small shops where artisans may pursue their vocations amid surroundings and under conditions that make for contentment and happiness.

CENTRAL HUDSON SYSTEM OF GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANIES KINGSTON GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

try called the Pyralis Products Co., which is capitalized at $150,000. No request for aid was made of Newburgh, the financing having been accomplished without outside capital.

Newburgh is also soon to have a large plant for the manufacture of wood working machinery, the concern coming from Muskegon, Mich., because of superior advantages offered in this section.

The Barbarino Motor Car Co. has taken the plant of the Corrugated Tubber Co. at Poughkeepsie and will soon begin the manufacture of cars.

The splendid location, transportation facilities, climate, living conditions, not to mention the all important item of power available in this region, when they are properly exploited, are certain to attract desirable people and industries to the Valley.

One Hundred Foot Highways Along Both Shores of the Hudson

General Davis, President of the Hudson Valley Federated Chambers of Commerce, believes one logical development in the Hudson Valley during the next few years will be the construction of a 100 foot highway on either side of the Hudson River from New York to Albany. He points to the rapid strides made in the past twenty-five years in highway travel. Today automobiles number millions. It is inconceivable that progress will stop with the present era, he believes, and when highway traffic increases, it must result in more adequate roads. To hasten the day of great arterial highways is one of the aims of the Federated Chambers of Commerce.

Air Service in Sweden

Regular air services were operated in Sweden for the first time during 1924. All of these were on a summer schedule, and included services between Malmo and Hamburg, Stockholm and Helsingfors, and Malmo and Copenhagen. Although regular schedules were followed on all three lines, most of the traffic was on the Copenhagen route, over which 246 trips were made and 2,528 passengers carried. The fact that on January 1, 1925, there were 233 private individuals in Sweden in possession of licenses for operation of airplanes is an indication of the interest that has been aroused in civilian air services.

Easy to Remember

John E. Wright, of Tucson, recently appointed United States attorney of Arizona, knows the license number of his automobile without looking up a memorandum. He knows it because it is identical with the number of his house, the number of his postoffice box and his telephone number. He lives at 1111 South Sixth street and it took him years to achieve the simplification of numbers.

WHEN ARCH SUPPORTS DON'T RELIEVE

If you have spent a lot of money on arch supports and your feet still hurt you go to your drugstore and get a 50 cent bottle of Carter's Liniment and get what a single application will do.

Painful arches are caused by weak tendons which stretch and allow the feet to sink into a flat position. These small bones can hold the weight of the body only when they form an arch—strengthen the tendons with Carter's Liniment and they can lift the sinking bones back into their natural position, the arch and your foot pains will disappear.

When you think of liniment ask for Carter's. "It's different." For free sample write Carter-Led Chem. Co., Hudson, N.Y.

Breathing Is First Requisite

Proper Inhaling and Exhaling Is Initial Step Toward Success in Water. Noted Life Saver Declares.

Editor's Note—The approach of the summer bathing season will soon bring back into the news of the day the familiar "drowning while swimming."

In an effort to lessen the summer fatalities, the American Red Cross has undertaken a campaign of education in how to save lives, how to avoid seaside tragedies, what to do in a drowning person, etc.

In a series of twelve timely articles, written for International News Service, of which this is the first, Commodore W. E. Longfellow, life saving expert of the Red Cross, outlines some of the dangers to be met by bathers, and couples with it some sound advice as to how to overcome these dangers.

Lesson No. 1—A Proper Introduction to the Water.

(By Commodore W. E. Longfellow, Life Saving Expert, American National Red Cross.)

(Written for International News Service.)

For the successful start of a lasting friendship, a proper introduction seems to be essential. If you want to get acquainted with the water, know it well, and enjoy the acquaintance, suppose we use this form of introduction:

"Folks, meet the water. Water, meet the folks. The American Red Cross wants you to know each other better so that you may get along well together."

"Make a nice bow—a low one. Put your face in the water, hold your breath, and open your eyes under water. You can see perfectly if it is clear water. The eyes will not shrink from washing."

Breathe Through Mouth.

"Now lift your head above the water. Take a breath of air in through your mouth. Exhale it gently through the nose with your face in the water. Learn to do this rhythmically as you stand in water waist deep, and you have accomplished the most important thing in learning to swim—proper breathing."

"The nose, if used only for exhalation, can take no water into the lungs to choke you. Besides, the mouth is a bigger intake valve. Water that goes in through the mouth to the stomach will do little or no harm."

"With this ability to breathe in the water, any stroke you learn can be done indefinitely."

"You have now been properly introduced to the water."

"People who breathe properly in the water seldom get into trouble through choking."

Water Accidents Avoidable.

"It only remains for you to relate this rhythmic breathing to any of the swimming strokes you know. If you have not learned any stroke, it will be easier to pick up the one you select after learning to get your air regularly. Generally speaking, the only difference between a good swimmer and a poor one is that the good swimmer has learned to get his air regularly and in sufficient quantity to enable him to continue swimming movements, while the poor swimmer has not mastered the art of breathing."

There have been numerous water accidents so far this season. Most of them were preventable. The American Red Cross is conducting a campaign of education to eliminate accidental drownings in America.

"Everyone a swimmer and every swimmer a life saver," is the slogan for the summer season.

Brown Tire Co. To Open Branch

The residence property at 422-424 Washington avenue, near the junction of Hurley avenue, has been sold to the N. B. Gross Realty and Insurance Agency of 574 Broadway, this city, by the owner, Mary A. Halstead.

The new owners have had plans drawn for extensive alterations of the building and have leased a store to the Brown Tire Company, which operates one of the largest wholesale and retail tire stores in the Hudson valley at 662 Broadway, Kingston, and who also have a branch store at Fleischmanns.

The Brown Tire Company will continue doing business at its main store on Broadway. The branch store on Washington avenue will be opened for the convenience of their many patrons from out of town reaching this city at that point.

The erection of a service station and garage on the property is being planned by the Gross Agency, the lot having a depth of 240 feet, and they are negotiating leasing the same with one of the leading automobile agencies in town. The sale of the Halstead property is its first transfer in nineteen years.

Radio Plumbs Sea's Depths

One of the most important developments in navigation in recent times, the "fathometer," which measures the depth of the sea at the rate of 240 times a minute, was demonstrated on a trip of the Berkshire of the Merchants and Miners' line, between Baltimore and Boston. This instrument working on the principle of transmitting and receiving sound waves through the water, takes the place of the sounding lead used since the early days of ocean transportation.

The fathometer was demonstrated on a three-day voyage in the presence of newspaper men and technical experts. Throughout this period it gave soundings of one to four seconds, depending on the nature of the ocean bed, corresponding with the depths shown on the charts.

Going Down

At the weekly poker game Gid Carlton, who makes machinery for motion picture making, was discussing ancient history with Frank Lawrence, editor-in-chief of Universal pictures, the Los Angeles Times states. Gid even showed Frank a picture of some Swedish king from whom the Carltons traced their ancestry.

"That's all right," said Frank, "but, after all, that king isn't so very far back. I can trace my family back a great deal farther."

"So can I," cried Gid, determined not to be outdone. "I can trace my ancestors back to—to well, I don't know exactly who, but we've been descending for centuries."

William Dickinson, wounded at Cambrai with the 27th Division, gave the first dollar to Tuxedo Park's share of The American Legion Endowment Fund for disabled men and the orphans of veterans. The clock made record time and Tuxedo Park was the first community in New York "over the top" with its quota of the Endowment. The Rev. R. W. Wood, chaplain of the Legion post, is receiving the contribution which was followed quickly by 2,452 other dollars.

Sack to Stop Blasphemy

An Italian society is conducting a "blasphemy" campaign against blasphemy with the approval of the church. In many Italian cities one may see posted on the walls hundreds of such admonitions as "Blasphemy sells your soul and detracts from the sanctification of your speech" and "When you blaspheme you make your soul miserable." In Florence a sacer seeks by similar methods to remind the public of the ten commandments. The posterman, resembling a corner, has suddenly and himself faces to face with enormous letters admonishing him. "Thou shalt not swear," of the other thou shalt work. Antislavery days are common in many Italian cities, and are the occasions for splendid public processions, in which the local clergy take part.

MOTORISTS WILL AVOID ROAD EDGE

Much Depends on Width of Road, Curves, Grades and Other Conditions.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Does the average motor car driver keep to the right of the road as far as possible or crowd over to the middle? The United States bureau of public roads finds that the answer to the question is affected by the width of the road, curves, grades, slope of road surface, and condition of the surface adjacent to the pavement. This conclusion is based on observations of the habits of drivers on highways of various kinds, widths, and location. Points were selected for observation and the width of the pavement was marked off with white paint into one-foot sections so that the position of passing vehicles could be observed.

Road Position Preferred.

In most cases the cars were not passing other vehicles at the instant of observation. The investigation, therefore, indicates the road position preferred by the average driver. Few automobile drivers prefer a position closer to the edge of pavement than 2 1/2 feet and on meeting other cars the average driver will sacrifice clearance rather than drive closer to the edge that he instinctively feels to be safe.

Truck drivers who, as a class, are sometimes accused of being road hogs are found by the bureau to be not guilty. Most of them were observed to drive a foot closer to the edge of the pavement than drivers of motor cars and under all circumstances they adhered more closely to the side of the road.

Eighteen feet is found to be the minimum width of roadway which will permit passenger vehicles and trucks driven in the preferential positions to pass in safety and with a reasonable amount of clearance. This will allow a distance of 27 feet between the outer wheel and the edge of the road for automobiles and 3.5 feet for trucks with 3.9 feet clearance between vehicles.

Shift to Inside.

Observations on curves showed that there is a general tendency to shift to the inside of the curve, particularly by the traffic moving on the outside. Improper banking of the road surface, poor shoulders and steep embankments on the outside of the curve all tend to make drivers crowd to the inside. White lines in the center of the road were found to be very effective in keeping traffic in its proper channel.

A report on the investigation has been issued by the bureau and it is felt that the data will be helpful to engineers in deciding on road widths and other problems of road design.

Neglected Lubrication

Cause of Many Squeaks

Squeaks which are hard to locate are sometimes caused because the spring leaves and shackles are not lubricated. Usually there is a grease cup or an oil hole on the shackles, and many drivers remember to oil here, but fail to recall that there are bearings between the leaves of the springs which also need lubrication.

When the car has been driven for several months moisture is very apt to work in between the spring leaves, producing rust, and soon there is a squeak. There are a number of ways of lubricating the spring leaves. There are clamps which open them up to permit the application of the oil and graphite, there are inserts which provide lubrication for almost the life of the car, and there is a device which clamps on, which furnishes a minute quantity of oil through a felt pad, which is supposed to keep just enough oil between the leaves for lubrication and not enough to drip or collect dust.

Second Edition Trouble

Psychology plays a queer prank on the car owner who is overanxious to avoid a second edition of some trouble that he has worked hard to get rid of. It seems that as soon as he takes the wheel of the new car he commences looking for the sort of trouble he had with the old one, and he very shortly begins to find it, for the unique reason that he starts to do the things that develop the particular trouble.

In other words, in trying to see whether the particular unit of the car has the particular failing he makes certain tests which, in themselves, are nothing more nor less than trouble breeders.

Detroit Leads in Safety

H. O. Rounds of the Detroit police department, and originator of the Automobile School of America, who in the successful campaign making Detroit the safest city for pedestrians, claims that quite a bit of accidents are caused by lack of knowledge of traffic rules. The main requisite demanded of a driver, however, is absolute control of the machine, whether at high or low speed. And then, hoginess, and lack of courtesy on the road districts attention, and accidents are bound to occur.

Frequent Inspection of

Wiring Is of Importance

If car owners would make a point of inspecting the wiring on their machines two or three times a year, a lot of trouble would be avoided.

There is no such thing as tightening a connection so that you are sure it will stay. The constant jar and sway of a car will sometimes succeed in working loose a nut that has been jammed down so tight that it seemed to be there for keeps. This is particularly likely to happen if there is slack in the wire so that it whips back and forth.

It is quite common to find batteries that are undercharged for no other reason than neglect of the owner to keep connections tight between battery and generator.

Don't Polish Car When

Surface of Body Is Hot

Under no circumstances should a motorist ever attempt to polish his car while the surface of the body is hot from standing in the sun. Any sort of paint or varnish softens somewhat under heat. The warmth of a summer sun is ample to soften the varnish of a car to such an extent as to make rubbing it decidedly destructive to the varnish.

Even standing in the sun will frequently result in heating the varnish to such an extent that as it cools again it will check and crack into thousands of tiny lines. When this occurs, the fine finish of your car is gone forever and no polish will completely restore it.

SOME NEW COLORS AND COMBINATIONS.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Apparently milliners, more than any one engaged in beautifying womanhood, are more expert and interested in introducing new colors, or launching old ones under new names.

There is, for instance, China rose—one of the several fuchsia shades, this being a particular favorite at the time of writing. Pond Lily and wild aster are other favorites, with more or less descriptive names, while moonbeam is the poetical appellation given to gray.

Trimnings Show a Downward Trend

Gray hats, as well as hats in all the above mentioned colors, are deserving of immediate and earnest consideration.

Whether the hat is to be large or small depends not so much on fashion, which approves both, as on the occasion. The advancing season demonstrates that while fashions are still affected by smart women, there is more than a little interest in straw, and considerable response toward straws in combination with felt, velvet, or for the matter of that, any fabric.

While trimmings are frequently placed elsewhere, the right side continues to be the most usual placement, and an inverted position this more generally approved.

John Alden Home Rich in Historic Interest

New England is still rich in the old landmarks and homes of pioneer settlers. One does not have to go far from New York to come across these ancient monuments and habitations. Situated close to the South Shore tracks and a short walk from the Duxbury station stands the house that was the home of the girl for whom the big Fall river steamer Priscilla was named and of her husband, John Alden.

"Leaving the Duxbury station going toward Plymouth," says the New York Times, "the house is on the left hand side of the train and can be plainly seen from the car windows. It is undoubtedly one of the most historic houses in America. While it is very properly called the John Alden house, it was actually built by his son, Jonathan Alden, in 1653.

"The old house is well worth a visit. Entering at the front door, the 'great room' is on the right and the parlor on the left. The great room and, in fact, all the rooms are filled with fine and rare old-fashioned furniture. Across the ceiling of the great room can be seen the immense beams used in the construction of early colonial houses and the wrought-iron 'HL' hinges to the closet doors. In the great room also are two rare engravings by John Jones, London, valued at $500 each.

"There is also a punchbowl 225 years old, some rare and beautiful glassware and some Lowestoft ware, including a rare helmet pitcher; a beautiful secretary with a secret drawer also adorns this room, as well as a small table actually used by John Alden and Priscilla. In the kitchen is the huge open fireplace with a capacity for four-foot logs; also a brick oven and the usual assortment of utensils in connection therewith; sets of wooden and pewter ware and much rare china. Off the kitchen is a small room in which both John Alden and Priscilla died.

Panels Useful To Divide

Wide Figure Into Sections

For a wide figure, a panel at each side instead of one in the front is to be preferred. The side panels divide the figure into three sections, making it appear less heavy than it really is.

Italy Preparing Greatest Victory

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Rome, May 28.—All Italy was speculating today on what political event is foreshadowed by the conference between Premier Mussolini and Gabriello D'Annunzio, poet patriot.

Mussolini made a somewhat mysterious visit to the poet's home several days ago, the purpose of which he has not made public.

"All Italy is on the eve of a great event," D'Annunzio told newspapermen, "and all must keep silence in preparing for the greatest victory. I am pledged to secrecy by the premier."

Further mystery was added to the poet's ambiguous remark by the circumstances that none of D'Annunzio's remarks to the newspapermen were to be found in the newspapers in Rome.

TELLS OF WHIPPING IDOL OF PRIZE RING

Principal Got More Than Decision Over John "L."

At the end of the school term, in June, 1870, the school authorities informed Sullivan senior, father of John L. Sullivan, that, incredible as it might seem, they would struggle along thereafter without the presence of his son on the roster.

"Jawn," said his mother, grimly, "ye are too young to go to Boston college, where the brothers will mend yer manners. But meantime ye shall go to the Dwight Grammar school in Springfield street, where Professor Page will cure ye iv yer indacent misbehavior."

Prof. James A. Page was the first man to whip John L. Sullivan. To the end of his long and useful life—he died in 1917, at the age of ninety-two—Professor Page liked to tell of the few incidents he remembered in connection with his famous pupil. He sent the new student to his room and told his teacher to fasten a wary eye on him. The first thing she saw, an hour later, was a note being passed from desk to desk. She captured it and read:

"My name is John L. Sullivan. I whipped every boy at the Concord primary, and I can whip every kid in this room. I'm going to do it, too. Read this and pass it on."

In less than a month young Sullivan had made good. His recesses consisted of one combat after another. His progress after school was a series of fights that strung out for the full half-mile home. He even went to his classes a half-hour before the bell rang, charming his mother by such industry. Alas! It was only to have more time to hunt boys he had not yet whipped!

Professor Page recalled that his reports showed John was fairly interested in arithmetic and English, soon losing the brogue he was saturated with at home, but was hopeless in geography.

One day, in answer to a question as to their whereabouts, he told his teacher that the Rocky mountains were in Maine. A shout of derision followed, and John punched the nearest boy on the nose. Into the free-for-all that followed the teacher plunged, emerging with a firm clutch on Sullivan's collar. She sent him to the principal with a note. Page returned with him, and in front of the pupils gave the future champion a sound beating with a two-foot ruler—Joe Dorney and Sid Sutherland in liberty.

Waiters Lose "Perks"

It is not necessary to preach economy in England, where taxes are at a maximum. One after another old wasteful customs—some of which have helped provide a living for the needy—are disappearing under the watchful eye of the efficiency expert. Among these are the "perks" (perquisites) of the porters and waiters in hotels. It used to be a porter's "perk" to collect all the old newspapers left lying around by guests and sell them for what they would bring. Those days are gone. Old papers, in most London hotels, must now be handed over to the management and kept for sale in bulk for the benefit of the house. It is the same way with cooks—a waiter's "perk." These have become too valuable to be donated to employees. Ordinary cooks sell for as much as 5 pence (6 cents) apiece; champagne cooks bringing as high as 8 pence.

The Correspondent

John McCormack, the famous singer, receives a great many letters from aspirants to musical fame.

At a dinner in New York Mr. McCormack read a letter that had been sent to him under the erroneous impression that he taught voice production. The letter, dated from the Mid-West, ran:

"Friend John—Please let me know your lowest rates for full correspondence course in voice production. I have no voice, but as the efficiency engineer business is not what it was represented to me by the International Efficiency School of Correspondence, I desire to abandon same in favor of grand opera, and if you can produce me a fine tenor voice I will be glad to pay, in addition to regular charges, a cash bonus and a generous percentage of salary receipts for a term of years. Answer by return."

Accepts Position

Joseph Miles, who pursued the combined course at the Morris Real Estate School, Burgett Building, corner Fair and Main streets, has accepted a desirable position in the office of the Cornell Steamboat Company, Cornell Building.

The way the family and their guests gravitate toward the sun porch shows the desire to live in sunshine and color.

By A. LOUISE FILLERBORN

Everyone needs a winter garden—the necessity in most homes for a breath of out-of-doors is urgent and the way the members of the family and their guests gravitate towards the sun porch shows the desire we all have to live in sunshine and color.

In furnishing a sun porch, we are often hampered by the one-sidedness of the room. There are always three whole walls of glass and one solid side, the one towards the room is blank wall space, with no possibility of windows. Our problem is to trim this wall so it balances the streaming sun and air effect of the others. The only answer of course, is to use upon it a space-giving design in light, cheery colors. There are several ways to do this, sometimes a fascinating soft colored design is stenciled on soft yellow painted walls, sometimes brilliant wall hangings are used, but the easiest and swiftest way is to use a charming, brilliant wallpaper like the one in our illustration. In spreading leaves and long slender stems give an illusion of space that adds perspective to the blank wall.

The design is carried out in greens and soft blues and yellows—certainly suggestive of the spring garden at its fullest. Green curtains at the windows unify the room still further, and the real ferns and flowers that, with the summery wicker furniture, are always found in these pleasant porches, hardly needed to create this indoor garden that lasts all through the winter months.

It is particularly noticeable at this time that nearly all of the leading decorators are strongly urging color and design in wall decoration instead of the cold, unfeeling walls that have been the fashion in some quarters for several years past. Harmonious color schemes may easily be acquired by following the tones and tints suggested by well chosen wallpaper.

Resolutions of May Grand Jury

Grand Jury at May Term of Supreme Court Praises Work of Prosecutors, Finds County Jail in Sanitary Condition.

The grand jury in attendance at the May term of the supreme court in handing up its report to Judge Roach filed the following resolution with the clerk of the court:

"The Grand Jury drawn to serve at the May term of the Supreme Court in Ulster county, being about to conclude its session, and having inspected the county jail, wishes to place on record the following:

"We recognize the care and completeness with which the several cases presented for our consideration were prepared by District Attorney Traver and Assistant District Attorney Murray; also the orderliness with which the testimony of witnesses was introduced, rendering the task of agreeing upon our conclusions comparatively easy, and with one or two exceptions, where facts were sharply contradicted as given by various witnesses, resulting in unanimity in our findings.

We commend the patience with which these officials listened to credible testimony from reluctant witnesses or cleared up contradictory evidence given before us compared with that submitted at preliminary hearings. The experience of both these officials in the criminal work of the county in preparing the cases entrusted to us and conducting them before us, is a most valuable asset to the citizens of Ulster, and by limiting the cases that are brought for final adjudication to the trial courts to those in which a fair prospect of conviction is presented, while permitting none deserving punishment to escape the toils of the law, both the time of the courts and large expenses to the county is served. A word of praise is also due the Grand Jury Stenographer, William P. Glass, for his industry and assistance to our work upon all occasions.

We also desire to express appreciation of the clear and comprehensive charge delivered to us by Judge Roach before entering upon our work, setting forth our privileges as well as our restrictions in handling the cases placed before us for our action.

We have thoroughly inspected the county jail and found it clean and sanitary throughout and the inmates properly quartered, decently clothed and provided with wholesome food. From the fact that no recent escapes have occurred, or attempts to escape have been made, it speaks well for the care and zeal of the officials in the conduct of the jail. We therefore take pleasure in commending in the highest terms the administration of Sheriff Wells in all particulars, as well as the work of his assistants.

Submitted by Charles L. Kelly, Edward L. Fowler and L. R. Benedict, committee and unanimously adopted this 26th day of May, 1925.

Doherty Sox Here On Memorial Day

There will be plenty of blood spilled Decoration Day—that is blood in the form of skillful baseball playing.

The Doherty Sox have started their 1925 season pretty badly and the Colonials have emerged on the shorter end of the score in two of this season's contests, and they figure that two are plenty. Consequently a defeat will be costly to the prestige of either of these teams and a win will be difficult to get, let alone either club capturing two prizes on the same day.

"Babe" Ruth will hardly be here Saturday, but his representative in the semi-pro branch of baseball will be on deck in the person of Howard Lohr, who is known as the home-run king of semi-pro baseball. Lohr plays in the outfield and has turned down more than one offer coming from the major league.

When Benny Borgman's work on the basketball floor is finished for a season he then takes to baseball. Kingston fans who have watched him sink the basketball for two pointers will have a chance to size him up on the baseball field as a shortstop.

The Sox have three mound prospects in Herbie Herschler, Leslie Montgomery and Sid Maniore, who have all contributed much to the record of the Sox. Herbie did the pitching in the afternoon game against the locals last Decoration Day. Although this trio are far from lacking, the management of the Paterson team have their eyes open for a major leaguer in order of making sure of their revenge.

Why Membership Rush Is Necessary

There have been so many inquiries turned in to the Ulster County Musical Association Executive Committee as to why there is such a rush to have the memberships turned in if the concerts do not come until next fall and winter, that the answer is hereby made generally public.

In order to secure such artists as Madam Louise Homer, Albert Spalding, Joseph Hoffman, London String Quartet, etc., and especially a Symphony Orchestra, it is necessary to close the dates with them not later than the first of June, which is only a few days away. Therefore, it is necessary to have all memberships in, in order to know exactly how much money can be spent for artists. Hence it is absolutely necessary to have all applications for memberships in the hands of the committee—that is sent to Mr. Dodge, within this week's intensive drive. For the most part people seem to realize this situation and the membership applications and checks are coming in thick and fast.

The following additional memberships are reported:

Men Pay Tribute To Dr. Michael

Wendell Holmes many years ago in the old Kingston Hotel, when he offered the distinguished visitor a glass of wine and Dr. Michael said: "I find that when a man has passed the golden milestone of life, hot gin and sugar is better." Dr. Michael was presented as one who has "passed the golden milestone of life."

Finds World Smiling Back.

In beginning his remarks Dr. Michael said he found it difficult to say anything, he felt overwhelmed, as though all that had been said was about some person unknown to him. He wished he could believe all he had heard. He felt appreciative of the honor bestowed on the great office of teacher.

Citing an experience last week when he drove his automobile 320 miles in one day and was on the job next morning and feeling fine, Dr. Michael said he had not yet passed the golden milestone. He could still look at the world in the face with a smile and find the world smiling back. Tonight it seemed to be laughing out loud. Teaching is a great job and there is more fun in it than in anything else one can conceive of. It is work, but what is life without hard work.

After a few remarks by the toastmaster, the program ended with the orchestra playing "Auld Lang Syne." The dinner hour was followed by music by Paul Zucca's orchestra and singing led by Harry P. Dodge.

Among those present were: C. R. Potter, T. A. Corby, R. L. Marchant, S. J. Messinger, F. L. Eastman, J. T. Johnson, A. C. Gates, Charles J. Mullen, William O'Reilly, L. Beeres, E. D. B. Loughran, H. New York, May 28.—Conditions in the stock market today were practically unchanged from those of the last two days. Vigorous forward movements took place in a number of stocks having the support of professional pools, while the rank and file of industrial shares moved within a narrow radius and sold off as soon as selling pressure assumed any considerable proportions.
Industrial and motor stocks held the center of the stage. Maxwell, Mack Trucks and other active motor shares gave the impression of not having reached their "peaks" and were therefore whipped along at a fast rate in the early trading, after which they assumed a more leisurely pace.
An erroneous report that the governors of the stock exchange had ordered trading in Maxwell B discontinued caused considerable confusion, and the "B" stock certificates jumped nine points as a result, subsequently declining to their starting point. Then the regular B stock staged a sharp advance and gained about four points. Mack Trucks staged its almost daily performance of advancing to a new high record price for the year and General Motors maintained its high price for the movement in the face of heavy selling. Studebaker declined a point below its previous close.
The bulk of the oil, copper, shipping and industrial stocks were either inactive or featureless. American Sugar advanced two points to 55 and Cuba Cane Sugar Preferred gained two points.

Syndicate Seeks To Buy Liners
Dedette Proposition Made to Government for Purchase of Leviathan and Five Other Trans-Atlantic Ships.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, May 28.—Negotiations for the sale of the Leviathan and six other big trans-Atlantic liners to a private interests—thus carrying out the administration's policy of "getting the government out of the shipping business"—have actually been opened. It was learned here today.
Emmett J. McCormack, of the firm of Moore and McCormack, 111 Broadway, confirmed reports today he has laid a proposition before the United States Shipping Board for the purchase of the vessels. McCormack said his proposition has the backing of a syndicate of bankers whose names for the present will not be divulged.
Other ships mentioned in the transaction are the George Washington, the Republic, the America, the President Harding and the President Roosevelt. All are now in trans-Atlantic trade under contracts let by the shipping board, to the United States Lines.
T. H. Rosbottom, general manager of the United States Lines, also reported to be interested in acquiring the vessels, declined to discuss the matter today.
McCormack told International News Service he believed the shipping board's procedure, if it decided to sell, would be to call for competitive bids, and he left the impression his interests are willing to meet any offer.

Buckner After Big Violators
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, May 28.—From today on, prohibition officers and police will cease arresting "small fry" violators of the Volstead act and center their attack on the "liquor financiers and big bootleggers," according to an announcement made by United States Attorney E. R. Buckner.
"Hip-toters" can, therefore, breathe more easily.
"We want the big crooks," he said. "With New York full of bootleggers, poison liquor manufacturers, boats with full cargoes and a city wallowing in liquor what sense is there in arresting the small violator?"
He added that the courts were so crowded they could not dispose of the cases anyway.

To Ask America For Polar Help
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Copenhagen, May 28.—The United States will be asked tomorrow to send an air expedition to the Polar regions to search for the Amundsen-Elliott North Pole flyers. It was believed in Copenhagen today.
Directors of the union are meeting tomorrow, and are expected to recommend that preparations be made to send two naval airplanes to Spitzbergen, and will at the same time ask that the United States send airplanes to Cape Columbia. This would take the American searching party 260 miles north of Greenland.

LATEST NEWS OF NEW YORK STATE FARM ORGANIZATIONS
Prepared for This Paper by the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, Ithaca, N. Y.
M. Y. Sheep Growers Assembly Met at Syracuse Warehouse
Wool is now being shipped from all parts of the state by sheep growers to their co-operative warehouse at Syracuse. On May 10 over 200,000 pounds had been assembled, and while officers of the wool growers' association consider it too early in the season to predict the increase in volume handled over 1924, they state that indications point to a healthy increase.
Local wool dealers are reported to be somewhat disconcerted by the recent slump in wool values and are hesitant to offer more than 35 cents to 40 cents, which is considerably below quoted market values.
Current wool values are markedly lower than they were two months ago, but the slump appears to be temporary at this time of year. There is no great increase in the volume of wool in sight. Woolen manufacturing is not particularly active and it is freely admitted that few mills have any reserve stocks of wool. With the resumption of activity in the mill a greater demand and better wool values are expected.
At a recent meeting of the directors of the Sheep Growers' Co-operative association, it was decided to offer no wool for sale on the present market, but to proceed with the assembling and grading at the Syracuse warehouse so as to be ready to take advantage of any advance in wool values. Members have been informed that they may secure an advance payment on their clip if they desire it.
The growers' association recently made available to members of the organization a booklet on the care of sheep containing practical suggestions by a well known New York state sheep grower setting forth some of the things he has learned about sheep raising in the past fifty years.

Sues Rafalowsky For Commission
Max Goldwasser Claims He Produced Customer for Latter's Property—Deal Never Consummated—Herbert Loses Suit.
In the action for breach of contract brought in the Supreme Court by E. J. Bass, Inc., against Alfred A. Herbert, the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $3,600. The action was brought to recover for what plaintiff alleged was failure to fill a contract for certain mirrors ordered by the plaintiffs.
This morning in Supreme Court an action to recover commission for sale of a business property was taken up for trial. Max Goldwasser brings an action against Herman G. Rafalowsky for commission for the sale of the Rafalowsky store for which he claims he produced a customer. He seeks five per cent commission on the transaction which involved a $10,000 deal. J. Schwartz, the purchaser produced by Mr. Rafalowsky, failed to perform his contract to buy a check for $400 given together with $100 cash to bind the bargain came back protested from the New York bank on which it was drawn. An action is now pending in court for performance of the contract.
Mr. Goldwasser claims that he was to get five per cent commission on the sale when the deal was closed. He also says that Mr. Rafalowsky said he would make him a present when the bargain was made. He claims that owing to difficulties into which Mr. Rafalowsky was at the time, it was difficult to dispose of the business and that before Mr. Schwartz was produced he had numerous customers to look over the store.
Mr. Rafalowsky claims that he was not anxious to sell his store, but Goldwasser asked him to sell and produced Schwartz, a relative, whom he was anxious to get in business in Kingston. He contends that Mr. Goldwasser said he did not desire any commission but was willing to put the deal through in order to establish Schwartz in business here. Later he asked two and one-half per cent commission, according to Rafalowsky who contends that the commission was not to be paid until the deal was closed and the purchase money passed.
Judge J. G. Van Etten appears for Mr. Goldwasser and Judge J. M. Fowler for the defendant.

FARMING TO BE ON SCIENTIFIC BASIS
Writer Sees Agriculture Becoming Centralized.
After studying the existing facts carefully and seriously, I can imagine the future unfolding in somewhat the following fashion:
With the progress of science and a more thorough diffusion of knowledge than has been in the past, the development of agriculture should compare favorably with that of mechanical industry. Though the odds are against revolutionary discoveries, there will be a marked advance in agriculture as an art; and in a country having a considerable density of population this will require a real metamorphosis in agriculture as a business.
As the complexity of the situation increases, thus demanding more and more in the way of capital and knowledge, both the little farmer and the inefficient farmer will be forced to the wall. There will be a survival of the fittest.
Paralleling the tendency of the last 20 years in manufacturing there will be a trend toward larger units. Successful farming will require competent managers and highly paid specialists, and these can be retained only where there is a relatively large production.
To what lengths centralization will go, no one can say. The limit will surely be different in the various branches of husbandry. It is not likely, for example, that individual control can become as extensive in growing fresh vegetables for immediate consumption as in raising wheat and corn. But it seems quite probable that ultimately there will be agricultural undertakings comparable in size and scope to the United States Steel corporation. They will build up voluntarily because of the advantages offered.
There will be large farms growing as few crops as the exigencies of scientific farming permit, managed by business executives of high caliber and superintended by men adequately trained in the natural sciences and in farm practice. These farms will be firmly united into mutual-benefit associations having a single directive policy.
Planting will be controlled and over-production prevented. Standardized products will be sold, and sold throughout the year in quantities just meeting the current market demands, thus eliminating outside speculation. Margins now eaten up by middlemen, both from small quantity buying and from lack of economy in selling, will go to swell the annual balance of the growers themselves.
In brief the methods which have made the American manufacturer successful will make the American farmer successful.—E. M. East in Scribner's Magazine.

RECORD GATHERING AT COMFORTER CHURCH SUPPER
More than three hundred seventy-five people, old and young, were served with chicken pie and all that goes with it by the ladies of the Church of the Comforter in their new Parish House dining room on Wednesday evening.
The guests were seated in their parlors of the efficiency of those who had the supper in charge and of the supper itself.
The spacious hall was prettily decorated with American flags hung from the walls. Bouquets of flowers, donated by Burgin, the Sisters, adorned the tables, serving as center pieces. Altogether the hall presented a most pleasing appearance.
A fine program of music was rendered throughout the evening by an orchestra of young men from the church.
After supper had been served a hand made piece quilt, presented to the Ladies Aid Society by Mrs. Earl Smith, was displayed. It was awarded to William W. Van Kuren, who had generously contributed $5 toward the quilt fund. When apprised of his good fortune, as though to outdo his own generosity, Mr. Van Kuren declined to accept the quilt, but returned it to the ladies together with an additional donation of $5.
The ladies of the church wish to express their appreciation of the part played by the public in this first social event held in their new home. This was the largest gathering ever served at the Church of the Comforter.

Co-operative Institute Opens on July Twenty.
The opening session of the American Institute of Co-operation will be held in the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, July 20 to Aug. 15. Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, Governor O'Fallon Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, and Frank Evans, general marketing counsel of the American Farm Bureau federation, are among those who will participate in the first session of the institute.
The American Institute of Co-operation was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia in January of this year. It has the backing of practically all of the farm organizations of the country. Agricultural co-operative associations which are supporting the institute have an estimated annual return, however, of more than a billion dollars. E. B. Reid, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was prominently identified with the organization of the institute.
The present plan provides for special study of commodity problems in seminars as follows: First week, grain, live stock, dairy products and supply buying; second week, fruits, vegetables, poultry and eggs, and dairying; third week, fluid milk, butter and cheese, and manufactured milk products; fourth week, cotton, tobacco and dairy products.

Tagging Major League Bases

Bob Meusel's homer in the sixth with two on was enough to give the Yankees a victory over the Red Sox and stretch the Yanks' winning streak to two games.

The Senators appear to have definitely stopped Connie Mack! They won again in a slugfest in which Harris used three pitchers and Mack four. Joe Harris slammed out two homers.

Eddie Roush also slammed a homer with two on and this margin enabled the Reds to lick the Cardinals, 4 to 2.

Chie turned in a three hit game while the Indians were hitting Wingo plenty and the Browns were looked 4 to 2 in ten innings.

The Tigers slipped a notch nearer the cellar by losing to the White Sox, 10 to 6.

The lowly Braves are giving our Mr. McGraw much to think about. They turned in another victory over the Giants yesterday, 5 to 3, making three straight defeats for the league leaders.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM AT CORNWALL SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon the Kingston High School track team goes to Cornwall, where it will compete in the annual Orange county track and field meet. The meet will be held under the supervision of the New York Military Academy. Coach Dumm will take the same men to Cornwall as were entered in the Duso League meet at Poughkeepsie last Saturday. The K. H. S. baseball team have no game scheduled for this week. However, Coach Benson is putting them through regular practice every afternoon.

West Shore Beat Universal Team

Railroaders Beat Universal Road Machinery Team 12 to 5—Fans Are Requested to Keep Off the Baseball Paths.

Wednesday evening, at the Athletic Field a large crowd of fans witnessed the downfall of the Universal Road Machinery Company at the hands of the West Shore Railroad Company with a 12 to 5 tally in the third game of the Industrial Baseball League.

The first inning started off with the Universal at bat. The first three men to face Radel, the young pitcher for the freight handlers, did not reach first. In the second inning the road builders had better luck and were able to make a tally of three runs across the rubber. Again in the sixth frame the Universal gained two more runs, but these were not sufficient to overcome the lead started by the West Shore in the first three innings.

The West Shore in the opening inning gained three runs at the hands of Colvin, who twirled for the road builders. In the second the freight handlers sent four runs across the rubber and in the third a like number was scored. The railroaders did not score again until the sixth when the last run was tallied for them.

Radel, who pitched for the West Shore, twirled a good game, having four strikeouts and allowed no base on balls, although he allowed three free passes when he hit two men. Good support in the field, however, was the main point in the victory for the railroaders.

Colvin, the twirler for the road builders, hit one man and allowed six others to take first base in base on balls. He had six strikeouts. Errors were rather plentiful for the Universal which figured greatly in the defeat.

Brucker, who played the right field for the freight handlers, showed good form with the stick. In the third frame he sent the sphere to deep center field and made third on the hit. By a wild throw made by Butler he scored in that frame and also scored the man already occupying the bases.

The fans are asked by the management of the league to keep off the foul and base lines at future games as it is impossible to play.

Score by innings:
W. S. R. R. 3 4 4 0 0 1 x—12
Universal Road 0 3 0 0 0 2 0—5

A good fast session of the national game was witnessed Wednesday and the crowd seemed well pleased with the struggle that the teams put up in an endeavor to take home the bacon.

Money Shifts To Mike McTigue

Experience of Champion Brings Betting at Even Money—Headlines on Milk Fund Card as Fit as Can Be.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 28.—With only 36 hours remaining before Paul Berlenbach, an obscure wrestler two years ago, makes his supreme bid for fame and fortune against Mike McTigue, world's champion, at the Milk Fund Show tomorrow night, a sudden influx of McTigue money left last-minute quotations at even money and the public without a choice between champion and challenger.

Sentimentally, the public was with Berlenbach, neck and heels, but show me a sentimental dollar and I'll show you a courteous subway guard.

The shift in the odds was merely a result of the belated realization that, while Berlenbach holds the advantage of youth and the sock, McTigue can summon experience and the wiles of a ring fox whenever needed, which probably will be often.

The combination of rushing slugger versus nimble stepper promised the greatest meeting of the outdoor season, and applications for tickets have reacted accordingly. From present indications, the 70,000 capacity of the Yankee Stadium will be stretched to its elastic limit for the show, providing weather conditions are propitious.

The present forecast for tomorrow night was for fair and warmer, and Tex Rickard's non-stop record seemed safe.

"Rickard's lucky," they call it, when the promoter continues his succession of outdoor shows without interruption from the weather. But Rickard, ordinarily, does not need luck any more than Rockefeller needs oil.

Off hand, the writer would venture to say that the only man who will need luck tomorrow night is Mike McTigue. Faced by a hitter so accurate and forceful that he has punched over 21 of his 24 opponents to date, McTigue himself is none too certain that one of his own punches will not beat him.

Mike has a reconstructed right hand that might collapse almost any moment during the fifteen rounds.

This is the only question disturbing the promoters now that everything is in readiness and the boxers merely resting in their quarters against the hour when the bell will call them out. The remainder of the headlines making up the card—Jack Delaney vs. Tony Barullo and Jimmy Slattery vs. Jack Burke—are as fit as human flesh can be.

EXCEPT FAST GAME AT ATHLETIC FIELD TONIGHT.

The Congregational Church baseball team will play the Church of the Comforter team tonight at the Athletic Field. The Congregational team has not lost a game thus far this season and the game tonight is considered the hardest game to be played.

The Church of the Comforter team is the one which beat the Congregational team out for the first place last season in the play-off series. A fast game may be expected when the Congregational team attempts to even the affair up tonight and send the Comforters down to defeat.

MEMORIAL DAY AUTOMOBILE RACE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—Only a few more cars, mostly untried quantities and doubtful starters, remained to be qualified today for the 500 mile Memorial Day automobile race and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

With 21 starters assured in Saturday's field, interest was centered today on whether or not the Skelly special, a Ford racer, another Dusenberry piloted by Phil Shafer, and Bob McDonough's Miller motored car, would successfully pass the elimination trials this afternoon.

With few exceptions every driver who has qualified easily broke Tommy Milton's record of 104 miles an hour.

Old time speedway fans today declared that the winner of this year's race would have to average 110 miles an hour or better. Last year the winner's average was slightly better than 98 miles an hour.

All Stars Have Busy Week End

Memorial Day will find the All Stars at Millerton, N. Y., where they will try to even things up with that club. Last game the All Stars lost 2-1.

Sunday the locals will have a real test when they clash with the fast Oasling club. This club played the Colonials two years ago and had a very good ball club. This season they have defeated the fastest clubs in semi-pro. baseball and the locals will have a hard job on their hands trying to defeat this outfit. If the local club makes a good showing down there they have been promised some very good games in the southern part of the state.

The locals will lineup Saturday and Sunday with Lynch, r. f.; Glaser, 3 b.; Sickler, s. s.; Stumph, 2 b.; Smedes, c.; Vogt, 1 b.; Chester, Dedeck, Gaddis, Black, Cragan, or Van Buren throwing Saturday, Jimmie Volker Sunday. The local club will have one of Von Gonsle's busses and will leave the central post office at 8:45 Sunday.

Dance, Ruby Hotel, Friday, May 29. Good music. Good time.—Advertisement.
